TRANSACTION PROCESSING TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The User agrees and acknowledges that:

We will make reasonable efforts to ensure that deposits and withdrawals are processed in a timely manner. We give no warranties regarding the amount of time needed to complete processing. We cannot be held responsible for delays in the banking networks, failures on part of the processor or actions of other parties involved in the processing of funds that may result in processing delays, reprocessing or reversal of transactions or the seizure or freezing of funds, nor will we be liable for any actual or consequential damages arising from any claim of delay or seizure.

We will not be liable for any actual or consequential damages arising from any claim of delay or loss as a result of invalid, incomplete or erroneous financial or personal data provided by the User with their deposit or withdrawal request.

As part of our licensing agreement and in compliance with anti-money laundering legislation, Users need to be aware they may be required to produce personal documentation (such as Government issued ID, bank statements and utility bills) upon request in order for their deposit or withdrawal to be processed. This allows us to help protect the Users and prevents our platform from being used as a vehicle for money laundering or fraud.
